That Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Ruth Hilton, high priestess of the Sun Worshippers, was trying to hypnotize her while she was testifying, was the startling declaration of Mrs. Elsie Stein Dittman to-day before Judge Charles H. McIntire in the East Cambridge Probate Court.

Mrs. Dittman had just finished giving her evidence in the case of the petition of Mrs. Mabelle M. Dutton of Dorchester for the appointment of a conservator for the wealth of her aunt, Mrs. Ellen M. Shaw of Lowell, a Madrasman Sun Worshipper convert. Attorney Kitteridge asked Mrs. Dittman as she shifted her position uneasily: "Has Mrs. Hilton been using any hypnotic influence upon you?" "She has," faltered Mrs. Dittman. "She has kept her left eye continually on my left eye to influence my mind." "Were Filmy White Robe." That Mrs. Shaw took bath in the dew on the grass of her lawn at break of day, that she wore a dainty white robe and that she had a white face, were the first things that came into Mrs. Dittman's mind. "I saw her," she said, "and she was so beautiful that I was hypnotized by her." "I saw her," she said, "and she was so beautiful that I was hypnotized by her." "I saw her," she said, "and she was so beautiful that I was hypnotized by her."

planation of it is given over the appearance of the man, which was left at Atlantic City when the troops started for Boston. The man arrived here just about the time the suicide was taken away for burial.

Mr. Winston gives his own estimate of $2,000, for although "Captain" was a man was called, had not appeared in public had been trained for an act which was expected to require all former efforts.

"Captain" did not appear [it did not show any of the symptoms that usually comes as a warning to his trainee, but when Mr. Winston went to see him, he found the big fellow dead on the floor, and marked on his head showed he had deliberately pounded the stone wall until he killed him self.

BOXERS WERE KEPT BUSY IN MANY RINGS

Here are the results of Monday night bouts in various rings:

At Salem—Tommy Rawson outpointed Young Nixson; six rounds; Young Murray vs. Young Rogers of Lynn; four rounds; draw. Young Carney outpoints Tommy Six Nixson of Lawrence; six rounds. Young Albert beat Ben Tipton of St. Louis in two rounds.

At Philadelphia—Mike Cannon of Pittsburg knocked out Johnny Murphy of Philadelphia in four.

At Gloucester—Johnny Lynch of Cambridge knocked out Jack Williams of Boston in four. Jack Foley of Cambridge knocked out Mike O'Hare of Brockton in three.

At Portland—Redfield Walcott of Boston vs. Tom Sawyer of Portland; six rounds; draw.

At Troy—Mike Grady vs. Ike Moran of Waterville; six rounds to a draw.

At New York—Jack Foley of Cambridge vs. Arthur; six-round draw. Tommy Nelson vs. Henry Cunley; six-round. Young Nelson vs. Rick; six rounds.

teeth were the only knockdown in the fight. Gans was thrown a couple of feet in quickly on his feet. The next round he flat let fought like a wild man, and it was his own forwardness that gave away. He was weak and came in, Gans was the first. Gans attempted to prolong the struggle, but Gans was not in the desired, he fairly hammered him. Gans was in the mission. It was not a knockdown at the door to the floor. Gans simply, slowly sinking to the floor to the floor. Gans was in the mission. He had taken all the punishment he could stand and felt exhausted.

Don Decker, the two trick man, getting two operators and two machines in preparing the pictures, as there is a misunderstanding between him and the following another in quick succession. Even with this feature nearly one hour is consumed in running off the plates.

Political Campaign, YOUR IN-TERESTS, Are Explained In These Letters

(Personal.)
26 Broadway, New York,
Sept. 6, 1908.

Dear Mr. Cassatt—in Mr. Patton's absence I venture to write you on a political question which seems to me of real importance and interest.

In the Twenty-seventh Congressional District L. Emery, Jr., the eldest agitator, is running for Congress against J. C. Sibley of Franklin. Sibley has had, as you know, rather a variegated political career, but he is now again squarely in the Republican fold.

There is a picture of government in your country, Mr. Reader. We need not be very deep or learned men to understand the situation which Mr. Archbold, of the Standard Oil, presents here.

In Pennsylvania, an honest citizen named Emery is running for Congress. He is opposed by the scamp Sibley, a servant of Standard Oil.
Archbold, of the Standard Oil, writes to Cassatt, the Pennsylvania magnate, and says: "BEAT EMERY, THE HONEST MAN, AND PUT IN MY SERVANT, SIBLEY."

You do not need to be told what HAPPENED at that election. The honest man was beaten; Sibley, the shameful rascal, was sent to Congress by these two great corporation managers.

Other letters that Mr. Hearst has published shows what kind of work Sibley has done and is doing.
Do you think, readers, that you have any chance for honest government unless you teach all of these men—the Archbolds, the Sibleys, and all the rest of them—that you will vote against them to begin with, AND LOCK THEM UP IN JAIL TO END WITH?

Read another letter. This is written by one of the trust's lackeys, a Senator of the United States, a man sitting in your highest law-making body.

This Senator, McLaughlin, writes to Archbold, that arch-corruption-ist and bribe-giver of the Standard Oil.

Read his letter carefully.

Bennettsville, S. C., Sept. 30, 1904.
(Confidential.)
To Dear Mr. Archbold—in the same mail by which your letter came was one that I wish to quote a few sentences from apropos of your remarks about Mr. R—
The writer of that letter was employed in a confidential way by Senator Hanna in matters of importance.

He is a shrewd, close observer, not over-scrupulous, but a very intelligent man, whose public experience and acquaintance is wide.
I knew him well in Washington, and when he saw my article in the Sun he wrote me a long letter including in some unexpected criticisms of the President, to which I replied, combating his position.
He says in part: "Reading on Sunday Lawson's Frenzied Finance recalled to my mind a remark that I heard him (Roosevelt) make that he hoped some day to be able to take a fall out of that Standard Oil gang, and if he succeeds, mark my words, he will try to make good his statement, as he believes it will appeal to the masses and keep him in the centre of the stage."

I thought it might be a friendly act to copy this and give it to you in strict confidence. From my isolated position I cannot say whether it is worth the ink or not.
It will show, anyway, that I am not unmindful of your various kind actions toward me.
With kindest regards,
Yours sincerely,
JOHN LOWDEN McLAUGHLIN.
To Mr. JOHN D. ARCHBOLD.

What do you think of that letter, readers? We have been telling you that the Standard Oil scoundrels are with Mr. Bryan this time.
Mr. Hearst has proved it to you, reading letters of Haskell, the Standard Oil agent, who writes Mr. Bryan's platform to suit the Standard Oil people, who was made treasurer of the Bryan party until Mr. Hearst's exposures compelled them to kick him out.

The faithful trust watchdog in the Senate, McLaughlin, warned the Standard Oil through Archbold that Roosevelt intended "to take a fall out of that Standard Oil gang." Mr. Hearst, in his speech, said:

"Well, Mr. Roosevelt surely did take a twenty-nine-million-dollar fall out of the Standard Oil gang, and the Standard Oil Company are going to nail his hide to their barn door if they can."

That is the truth, readers. Don't you know that these Standard Oil people are bound to fight bitterly against the man who has put fear in their hearts? And don't you know that the only way in which they can possibly "nail Roosevelt's hide to the barn door" is working and spending their money FOR BRYAN?

Some of our readers have asked us why we were for Bryan once, and why we are against him now.

We were for Bryan WHEN THE STANDARD OIL WAS AGAINST HIM. We are against Bryan now, WHEN THE STANDARD OIL IS FOR HIM. There is one answer. There are others, of which the chief is that we believed in Bryan's sincerity once, and believe him insincere now.

If you vote for Bryan, you vote for the Standard Oil, and with Archbold.

That gentleman is perhaps a little more careful about his letters in these days. He isn't probably writing as much as he used to write. But if you could hear him talk you would know what he and all the other Standard Oil people are doing. YOU WOULD KNOW THAT THEY ARE WORKING FOR BRYAN AND TRYING TO MAKE HIM PRESIDENT.

As a matter of fact, whether you take one or the other of the old parties, you get just such a condition as is revealed in these letters.

Mr. Roosevelt, it is true, "took his fall out of the Standard Oil gang." But he didn't take any fall out of the Steel Trust gang, and that trust is for his ticket now.

What you want in office is the kind of man that fights the Standard Oil Trust and all dishonest trusts straight through, such a man as Hin-gan in the nation, and such a man as William M. Osgood for Governor in the State of Massachusetts. These are men that would put such scoundrels as Sibley and Archbold and McLaughlin where they belong, if there is law enough to do it—AND THERE IS.

Readers, in those letters you have the entire political situation in America. You have the servile politicians and bosses and law-makers working to fill their pockets as lackeys of a trust manager; you have Archbold, of one great trust, writing to the head of another great trust suggesting as a mere matter of course that an honest man, desirous of representing the people, be beaten, and that such a vile creature as Sibley be sent to Congress to make your laws.

Readers, this situation has been described to you for years by Mr.
Hearst, in his newspapers and in his public speeches. We do not believe that many have remained unconvinced. But if there are ANY UN-CONVINCED they have got to see the truth now, with Mr. Hearst giving them the actual letters written by these scoundrels, and not one of them daring to deny the authenticity of the evidence that dams them.

You have got to vote with the Standard Oil or against the Standard Oil. If you vote with the Democrats, the machine that the Standard Oil has now taken up, you vote for Archbold and his gang.

The Independence party has nominated a man absolutely and for years the enemy of these Standard Oil people. We ask you to consider earnestly Mr. Hearst's address to his hearers in San Francisco the other night.

Think carefully. Think what party got the three hundred thousand dollar campaign fund. Think what party had a Standard Oil agent as chairman of its committee on its platform. Think what party had a Standard Oil treasurer to collect those certificates of deposit we hear so much about.

Think carefully. It is worth more than five dollars to every citizen to know whom that great corrupter of the people's government, the Standard Oil, is going to support in any campaign. Remember that their policy is to protect their friends and punish their enemies.

The Standard Oil will protect their friends and punish their enemies this time, by seeking to elect Bryan, and to punish Taft because he stands for Roosevelt. If you vote for the Republicans at this particular time you will, as it happens, vote against the Standard Oil's wishes, but you will vote to please that other trust, the Steel Trust, and a good many more.

Vote for the candidates of the Independence party in the State and in the nation and you will vote against ALL of the trusts, for a party and for candidates HATED BY ALL TRUSTS.
